My name is Leo Hill, and I am 12 and have lived in Brighton since the day I was born. I am currently writing this as I look outside to the Brighton beach and it makes me mad to think that these lively waters maybe at risk of contamination. These beaches are a large part of my life, as every summer I zip up my wetsuit to catch some waves by the water. Though if a land fill was built it proposes the problems of pollution and contamination if the land fill was to flood or leak. And while this is concerning what's more worrying is the impact it can have on native wildlife. Land fills can ~~attract~~ attract pests and unwanted predators, while ~~the~~ native wild life risk losing habitats and foods, all this is absurd and overall stupid. Lots of people are against this cause so it's important you don't build this land fill. It's important we keep our country lush and lively and this is clearly not helping.
