

Enviroschools

Ōtākou Update Term 1 2021

Kia ora koutou

Autumn feels like it has arrived, and we are already halfway through the term. Where has the year gone?

We have some sustainable fundraising options to share, a reminder that Earth hour is coming up on the 27th and an activity to support Earth hour.

Sustainable Fundraising

Want to swap out the 'plastic' fundraiser for more sustainable options. Please share these with your PTA and anyone else involved with fundraising at your school.

Cotton produce bags
Real Good
Fundraising
Little and Brave

Are you wanting to make your school events more sustainable? There are some great resources for running a sustainable event in the teams area of the Enviroschools website

Speak up for nature through Earth Hour 2021

Be part of Earth hour on the 27th March by turning off your lights to call attention to climate change

If the Earth Were an Apple is an activity from the Enviroschools resources which illustrates quickly and simply how finite the Earth's resources are. It is a great way to help students understand why Earth hour is important.

Get in touch

Get in touch with your facilitator if you want support with curriculum ideas, projects, school policies and practices or anything else sustainability related.

You will find lots of ideas and resources on the Enviroschools website

Find out what Otago schools and ECE are up to on our facebook page

We love sharing stories from your schools and centre so let us know what you have been up to.

Ka mihi nui

From the Ōtākou Enviroschools team
Robyn Zink (Enviroschools Regional Coordinator)
Robyn.zink@orc.govt.nz

School Strike 4 Climate are organising a day of action on the 9th of April. Read about their demands for Government and local action here.

